NEGOTIATIONS OFF; MINE STRIKE ON IN EARNEST

Funds in District Treasury Depleted and Foraging May be Necessary.

LOCAL MINERS AFFECTED

Will be Very Bad Thing for Valley in Immediate Vicinity of Charleroi.

After weeks of fruitless negotiations, the wage conference between the coal operators and miners of this district has come to an end by each side peremtorily rejecting the final proposals of the other. Negotiations are now off, and the strike, which has hitherto been called a suspension pending a settlement, is on in earnest. Fifty thousand miners are idle in the Pittsburg district, and indicatins at the present time are that a long drawn out strike is in sight.

The dispute hinged on the use of permissible explosives in this district by the Pittsburg Coal company, the miners demanding pay on a run of mine basis, on the claims that the use of the new explosives broke up the coal and decreased their earnings when the coal was screened. The operators were willing to grant the advance, but refused absoluely to pay on a run of mine basis.

This condition in the mining situation finds the miners illy prepared for a stike. Two weeks' idleness have already made great inroads on their individual reserve funds and there are no funds in the disrtict treasury with which to pay benefits. One of the miners officials stated that the miner's families will have to forage for a living during the strike, and that a tent colony would be established to take care of those whose families would be evicted from the mine houses.

Charleroi and the immediate vicinity will be badly affected. The mines of the Pttsburg Coal company that are tributary to the town are: Champion, at Elco; Eclipse, above Elco; Vigilant, California; Appollo, Fayette City; Redstone, above Fayette City; Washington, opposite Stockdale; Alice, opposite Roscoe; Chamouni, opposite California; Crescent, above California; Snow Hill, opposite Roscoe; Albany and Knob, near West Brownsville, and the Tremont and Pricedale mines near Belle Vernon, as well as the mines of the United Coal company at Naomi, which are similarly affected. These mines employ an aggregate of from 3,500 to 5,000 men, it is stated.

In addition to the mines of the Pittsburg Coal company are a number of others in the vicinity which will be similary affected by the strike. It is not known what the Vesta miners at California and Allenport will do, as this company has different conditons, and according to the Cincinnati agreement has the power to arrange their own terms. There is no powder dispute there, as the coal is paid for on a run of mine basis. Two or three attempts have been made to start the mines, but owing to local disputes work has not been resumed. Word from the Vesta Coal company's office at California this morning was to the effect that the mines are still idle, and it is not known whether or not the men there will join in the general strike of the district.

The Charleroi Coal works officials are also equally at sea. The mines have been closed for some time for repairs about the tipple, which are not yet completed, and it is not known what action the miners will take in regard to the strike. The Henderson mines across the river are idle and it is not known what the men there will do. Altogether the situation looks dark, but there is still hope expressed that a settlement will be reached before the strike is of much longer duration.

Council Accepts Auditors Report

Council at a meeting last night accepted the audtors' report for the audit just completed, and the clerk was instructed to draw a warrant on the treasury for $47.00 due them for the work. The audtiors were H. F. Parsons, J. G. Albright and Harry C. Hormell. The amount paid for the audit was $28.00 less than last year. Those present at the meeting were President J. K. Hein and Councilmen Oscar Linn, W. R. Gaut and Charles Schmeiler.

MANY CITIZENS FILE PROTEST

Many citizens are filing a protest over the ordinance recently enacted by council granting the privilege of making additions of the same materials to wooden buildings within the fire limits of the borough. The ordinance repeals the former regulations requiring all buildings or additions, big or little, to be of fire proof materials. Many property holders in the past have been obliged to make additions to frame buildings of brick at an increased expense and inconvenince, and these in particular are alleging discrimination. Other objections filed are that the ordinance will increase the insurance rates as soon as the underwriters learn of its passage. Some of the penalties imposed by the board have just been removed after much effort, and some are of the opinion that the ordinance just passed will result in additional penalties to the rates of business insurance.

Speaking of the ordinance one of the councilmen said yesterday that was passed for the purpose of removing some of the harsher restrictions of the first fire limit ordinance. That prevented a property owner from making slight additions to frame buildings, such as raising a one story addition, adding a porch, or connecting two wooden buildings that stood side by side. The object of the ordinance, the councilman said, was only for slight alterations, which must have the sanction of four councilmen, who should always consider that the fire risk must not be enhanced. It is not the intent of the ordinance, he said, to permit large additions to wooden buildings within the fire limits.

There is a strong feeling about town, however, that the ordinance leaves a loop-hole for evasions that will be hard to control, and which will result in more evasions of the fire limit regulations in the future than have been made in the past.

UPHOLDS THE LAW

Office of County Controller Constitutional Says Judge Taylor.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge J. F. Taylor in the court court handed down an opinion and a decree declaring the recent act of Assembly creating the office of county controller in Washington county constitutional.

C. R. Tilton filed a petition that the law was unconstitutional and refused to act with the other auditors in preparing an audit of the county up to October 1, 1909, when Controller Moffitt took office. The court, in its opinion, states that Tilton was not the proper person to raise the question of the law's constitutionality.

ACTIVITIES BEGUN ON STREET CAR LINE TO RIVER

According to the Monessen Independent, direct trolley communication between Monessen and other valley towns within two years is an assured fact. Activities have been started by the Pittsburg McKeesport and Westmoreland street railway company on the proposed line and expect to reach Donora on the main route before winter sets in.

The building of a bridge between Monessen and Donora midway between the two towns will complete the circuit which according to the company's intentions is to be perfected within the limit of two years.

The company intends to reach the Monongahela valley by way of Rostraver township, thence through Webster to Donora over the new Donora bridge.

The line will then extend up the river to a point midway between Donora and Monessen and will then cross to the east side by means of the new bridge which the company will erect.

A party of the company officials met the supervisors of Rostraver township Thursday for the purpose of closing the matter of securing the necessary franchise. In the party were T. L. Wolf, secretary of the company; C. P. Goehring, chief engineer, and J. S. Secrist, one of the directors. Dr. D. R. Shepler of West Newton, was also with the party.

The result of the conference is not known but the supervisors are said to be favorable to the idea of granting a franchise.

MONESSEN-CHARLEROI HOSPITAL IS DOING SURPRISINGLY WELL

The success that is attending the Monessen-Charleroi hospital in its early efforts of self maintenance and its work of relief for the victims of disease and accident is evidence that the promoters of the institution were endowed with excellent foresight in their claims for the need of such an establishment and the ability of the community to give it support. While a large number of cases continue to go to the city nospitals, this is no proof that the local institution is not doing a work which this section appreciates.

The choice of a hospital is a personal one. And it should be remembered that a hospital, like any other establishment which must build on a business foundation, has its reputation to make and its clientele to gather as it grows older. This the most doubtful must acknowledge the Monessen-Charleroi hospital is doing. It is no burden on the people. Most of the contributions to its support have been given with something of value in the way of social pleasure received. So we must all with one accord agree that the location of a hospital in this field was not in vain. It has with meager capital surmounted difficulties which only a small percentage of business houses succeed in doing when similarly placed.

Always deserving of a helping hand wherever possible, it is doubly worthy of support in the light of recent good work and present good showing. Help it along in every way possible.—Munessen Friday Evening Call.

SITTING ON DUCK EGGS IN MATTER OF PHANTOM VOTES

Ex-Congressman Acheson has been sitting on an hallucination for the past two years and a few days ago the shell broke. The result was quite similar to a hen sitting on a duck egg. Everybody else but the hen knows that the joke is on her.

He has at last brought forth his "evidence" to account for the number of illegal votes cast to defeat him. By deducting the number of votes cast for Taft in the fall of 1908 from the number of Republicans who voted for Tener at the Spring primary he ascertains to his own satisfaction the number of illegal votes cast. The American does not know whether to be sorry for the duck or its unnatural mother.

By this unique theory of deduction Mr. Acheson learns that there were just 346 illegal votes cast in Charleroi. He also has the figures for each precinct of the county, which someone has kindly passed over to Kennedy, Acheson's protege in the present campaign against Tener.

The absurdity of this line of figuring is so apparent that it is hardly worthy of consideration. In Donora in 1904, 367 votes were cast for Roosevelt electors, but at the Republican primary in 1906, when a candidate for burgess was nominated, 982 votes were cast, more than twice the number cast for president. Both candidates in the fight for burgess had their friends and watchers to see that no illegal votes were polled for the other man. In the spring of 1908, 723 Republican votes were cast for the candidates for Congress, and in the fall of the same year Taft electors received 462. Local contests always bring out a larger vote than Presidential elections and are closer watched to prevent fraud. That Mr. Tener's vote in his home town should exceed the Presidential vote is the most natural thing in the world—Donora American.

BOROUGH MAY ENTER SUIT AGAINST WATER COMPANY

Matter Now Lies in Hands of Borough Solicitor McCloskey.

COMPLAINTS NUMEROUS

Re-Rating of Old Rules Alleged —Contract Rate by Room Instead of by House.

From annoyances caused taxpayers of Charleroi in a sytem of re-rating, which it is alleged the Charleroi Water company is enforcing without proper authority, the borough council instructed Borough Solicitor D. M. McCloskey last night, if in his judgment he thought proper, enter legal proceedings against the Water company. The violation of the recently signed contract is not alleged, but the trouble is being caused by the extreme enforcement of old rules in various places of the borough.

Last night at the meeting of council, Solicitor McCloskey was present. Three complaints were heard, one from William F. Schempp, who stated that the water company was trying to enforce him to install three meters in a house on McKean avenue, simply for the reason that three families reside in the house. Another was from William Lambert, who has had trouble having his water turned on. Cuncilman Charles Schmisler reported a grievance from near Ninth street, on the same lines.

Since the Water company began a few weeks ago to make an effort toward re-rating in the borough, there have been numerous compaints made, first to the Water company officials, and then, after there was no satisfaction to be had there, to members of the borough council, and Solicitor McCloskey. The outcome of these complaints was the acion last night.

One of the main contentions is that the water company is striving to enforce apartment house owners to install a meter for every family occupying an apartment.. Another contention is that the company is attempting in houses where water is used by contract rate to charge for every room according to old rules.

The law on the points involved has not been defined, but in the opinion of Solicitor McCloskey, the borough could prepare a strong suit.

Beautiful Scriptural Sentiment in Cantata

A beautiful scriptural sentiment is the foundation of the cantata "Bethany" to be given at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel. Those who will participate are Mrs. I. T. Daniel, soprano; Miss Helen Woodhall, contralto; Morris J. Stephens tenor, and Prof. Daniel, bass.

BREWERY APPEAL SCHEDULED FOR A HEARING MONDAY

The appeal of the Star Brewing company of Washington to the Superior Court from the decision of the lower court in refusing to grant the company license for another year, is scheduled to be called next Monday in the Superior Court, which is sitting in Pittsburg. The case may not be reached Monday, but will come up some day next week.

Under the court's decision the Star company will be compelled to close down its plant on May 1, the end of the license year, unless there should be some action by the appellate court that would permit it to operate, which is not likely.

The outcome of the hearing in the appellate court will be awaited with interest, not only in this county but over the entire State. The beer agent question is the main one at issue in the appeal. It is not expected that an opinon will be handed down for several weeks at least.

T. F. Birch represents the applicant and will be prepared to argue that side of the question. Attorneys R. W. Knox, H. D. Hamilton, Rufus S. Marriner and J. R. McCreight represent the remonstrants.

WOOLWORTH'S OPENING DRAWS IMMENSE CROWD TO POPULAR NEW STORE

The popularity of F. W. Woolworth's 5 and 10 cent store in Charleroi was fully attested to by the crowds which thronged the store yeterday afternoon and last night when the opening of the new store in the Monier building, 530-532 Fallowfield avenue, occurred.

The opening hours were from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and in the evening from 7 to 9. During these hours Jenkins orchestra furnished music. Close tab was kept on the number of visitors during the day at the store, and when the doors had been closed for the night, it was found that there had as near as it was possible to ascertain 2,800 people entered the doors.

The store was decorated for the occasion. There are 15 counters, and the most perfect arrangement has been made in the capacious room. Five managers of other stores were here yesterday to assist Manager L. J. Peck, Charles Churchill of Homestead; Frank Woolworth of Monessen; C. D. Kurtz, Monongahela; A. D. Dunham of Pittsburg and F. W. Haderman of Pittsburg. R. J. Reilley of the East Liberty store, formerly of Charlreoi, was also here.

B. FRANK SMITH DRAWN ON JURY TO TRY HIMSELF

Strange and startling was the prank played by the hand of fate at the court house in Uniontown Thursday while the names of the June jurors were being drawn. B. Frank Smith is in jail for slaying his father, D. Porter Smith, and his brother-in-law, Evans Moser. He will be tried at the first week of June in Criminal court. Only a few names had been drawn for service that week when Jury Commissioner W. T. Kennedy, who was taking the names from the wheel, opened a slip and read aloud: "B. Frank Smith, farmer, George township No. 4." The name of a man to be tried for his life had been legally drawn for jury service during the week of his own trial. Such an incident never before occurred in the history of Fayette county, and it is doubtful if a similar circumstance is recorded anywhere in the United States. The name was thrown out.

FOR CONGRESS

JOHN K. TENER

OF CHARLEROI

Subject to the Decision of the Republican Voters of the Twenty-Fourth District at the Primaries June 4

An Important Decision.

While the proceeding to oust County Controller John H. Moffitt from office on the grounds of unconstitutionality may be carried to a higher court, the opinion of the lower court that the act is valid and constitutional, ought to settle the controversy. There are ample precedents in such cases, and it is safe to assume that the opinion handed down by Judge J. F. Taylor is the result of careful investigation and an interpretation of the law intrenched by well known precedents.

The office of controller, administered as it is at the present time, will result in a great savings to the county, as well as inaugurate a new era of looking after public affairs more in detail than has been done in the past. While there have been marked retrenchments in the conduct of county affairs since the present board of commissioners took office, some of the administrations of the past were marked by eras of extravagance and reckless expenditures. The fiscal affairs of the county were made to serve personal political ends, at the expense of the taxpayers. Judge Taylor's opinion will no doubt stand, and the controller, which is always a safeguard to the county's fiscal affairs, will continue to serve a useful purpose.

The Miners' Strike.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the miners' strike in this district, which is now inaugurated in earnest by the breaking off of all negotiations of the joint wage scale committees will be of short duration. Neither the miners nor the small business interests of this district are able to withstand a long drawn-out struggle, and the contest, if continued, cannot be otherwise than most demoralizing.

To those who look into the situation deeper than the surface, it would appear that a new economic principle in coal mining is involved, and that before the matter is finally adjusted there will be radical changes in methods. The use of the new explosives, over which there is so much dispute, involves new methods of handling, which those interested at this particular time do not seem to be able to grasp. The problem will no doubt be solved in due time, and when it is, it will probably be found that several departments will be necessary in the mining of coal where one is now in use. The chaotic period, however, is what bears heavily upon the miners and their families at the present time.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The joke writer on Judge must have a tougher job than President Taft keeping his social engagements.

Men should remember that it is impossible to buy socks in Charleroi now after six o'clock.

"Reckless and revolting demagogy" is what the Philadelphia Ledger calls Senator La Follett's recent speech on the railroad bill. We would really rather it wouldn't use all that talk to tell him what his action was.

One of the strangest things to a man is that of a woman, dirty, dishevelled, and hungry, yet exceptionally happy, from the joys of housecleaning.

It doesn't do a millionaire grafter any good to say he won't do what the officials want him to do. That's what makes the officials mad.

Some persons long for rain, and then when they get a paper damp because the paper boy could not keep it from the downpour, swear vengeance upon all connected with the publication.

Parents Do Not Pay Enough Attention to Work in Schools

The teachers and patrons of the schools who attended the second night of the Charleroi Teachers' institute at School Hall last night, and many new ideas which will help in the school work, through the various talks. Through the various discussions ran the sentiment that the parents did not pay enough attention of the work being done in the schools, and thus in a manner interferred rather than hepled in the educational work.

To the Voters of Washington and Greene Counties:

I am a candidate in the Republican primary Saturday, June 4, for the nomination of Senator in the General Assembly to represent the people of Washington and Greene counties. I am under no pledge or promise to any individual, clique or faction in the district or outside. I stand upon my own individual record and I am making my appeal for votes direct to the people---the sovereign power of every community. I stand pledged to use my best efforts in behalf of the people and I assure one and all that I shall use all honorable means to advance the welfare and interest of my constituency.

I have made no entangling alliances and if nominated and elected I shall be left free to do the will of the people in all matters pertaining to their peace, welfare and happiness. I refer the voters of Washington and Greene counties to past record in public life covering a period of thirty years. It is upon this record that I make an appeal for support in the coming primaries. I solicit the vote and influence of every Republican in the district. Thanking you kindly in advance for the interest you will take in my behalf, I am,

Very Respectfully Yours,

John W. Hallam

The Emerson Shoe

HONEST ALL THROUGH

FOR Spring and Summer the tan Oxford for every day and patent leather for dress, but it must be an Emerson to be correct. Cut on an exclusive pattern, the Emerson Oxford fits closely to the ankle and does not stretch under service and flare at the edges. The nobbiest of styles are combined with a perfect and comfortable fit.

The tradmark "Honest all through" stands back of the wearing quality.

May we demonstrate these points to you by trying a pair on you?

HIS HEART'S DESIRE.

An Informal Call That Had a Happy Ending.

By GARFIELD MACNEAL.

[Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.]

The chimes were still ringing as Tom Hastings sat down in the half darkness of the little church. He had strolled in hoping for temporary release from his bitter thoughts, but the quiet of the place only seemed to rouse his brain to greater activity. Yet he could not think of his story, the story already due at the publisher's. Instead he saw only a girl's face, now sweet and gracious as it had been before the quarrel, now cold and repellent as the past two weeks had shown it.

A strain of music broke the silence. The choir was filing in. Hastings glanced carelessly at the white robed procession. The face of the first boy caught his attention for a moment, serious, spiritual, framed in an aureole of golden hair, an ideal face for a choir boy.

But again his thoughts ran back in the old channels to the quarrel and its consequences. Her work had seemed to go on as usual. She was a successful miniature painter—at least fine carriages often stopped at the doorway of the big studio building, and her room rang with feminine voices. That was the maddening part of it. She lived just across the hall, so he must see her many times a day. He had made up his mind to move. But, then, he had such a beastly lot of traps, or perhaps it was some lingering hope that kept him there.

Some familiar chords on the organ startled him. Was it the offertory already? Yes, and the ideal choir boy was singing alone. His handsome face was flushed, and in his earnestness he waved his sheet of music gently to and fro.

"Oh, rest in the Lord," he sang.

Hastings leaned forward. The words were apparently for him. The absolute certainty of the boy's tones carried conviction.

"And he shall give thee thy heart's desire."

The tender voice went straight to the man's heart and comforted him. Yes, he, too, would wait patiently, and perhaps some day he, too, would have his heart's desire. Till then he would wait and work.

The next two weeks went by very differently. Under the press of a new enthusiasm the book seemed to write itself. The last sheet had gone in to the publisher, and he had always worn a smile when he met the girl on the stairs. Her bow was still as freezing, but he only smiled again and hummed the few bars from "Elijah," "And he shall give thee thy heart's desire."

Again Hastings sat in the little church. Perhaps his choir boy would sing for him. But the figure of the small leader drooped. In the glare of the choir lights his face showed white and haggard, while his eyes were swollen from weeping. A wave of pity went over the watching man. It might now be his turn to comfort. The sweet soprano voice was low and broken.

Hastings determined to find the meaning of the change, so he lingered after the service, and a kind faced curate told him the sad little story.

"You mean Jack Haines? He has just lost his mother—consumption—and the poor little fellow is left all alone. He is being cared for by neighbors, but we must find him a place in some charity school."

That delicate child in a charity school! Hastings could not bear the thought of it. The face of the child and his own loneliness helped him to come to a sudden resolution. His voice was very eager as he said, "Let me have him."

And so Jack came to live in the big studio building. Slowly the roses came back to his cheeks. He did not forget the pretty mother who had gone to sleep so quietly, but he haunted this new big brother like a shadow and crept into his arms to cry away the grief that time was trying to heal.

But it worried Hastings that the lad should be so solemn. When he came in and found the boy poring over some big book he would half laughingly scold him for turning into such a little bookworm. "You need some one to play with, Jack," he would say. "It is bad for you to be always cooped up with an old fellow like me." Tom was only thirty, but somehow he had felt very old and settled since that night.

But Jack always declared that he didn't want to be with any one else, and he was such a shy child that Hastings forbore to press the point.

He was therefore much surprised one afternoon on coming in to find the rooms empty. Where could Jack be? As the minutes went by, bringing no boy, he became really anxious. The janitor had not seen him. He was returning from fruitless inquiries when he stopped short at a burst of childish laughter. Could it be Jack? He never laughed like that. But, yes; it was his voice, and it came from the girl's rooms.

Hastings hesitated. And now the girl laughed. It was the same saucy little laugh he had loved so much in the days gone by. It decided him. She had stolen his property and should answer for the theft. He knocked boldly on the door.

Silence. He knocked again. Evidently they did not hear him. So he turned the knob and entered the forbidden chamber.

Surprising sight! On the floor in true Turkish style sat the stately Miss Trevor. On her lap were a big sheet of cardboard and sundry brushes and paints. Her hair was disheveled, and several daubs of color ornamented her

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE KISSING FETE.

By ROBERT C. WARNER.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

The fete was a great sucess. Long before the hour announced for the beginning of the festivities crowds of people were flocking to the entrances of the park, and during the evening many thousands came and went. Of these there were the young and the older, married, the former as participants, the latter as spectators.

And what was the occasion of the fete? An edict had gone forth that between the hours of 8 and 12 any young man might kiss any girl in the park provided he wore in his cap a green feather. This provision was introduced to enable any girl opposed to strange embraces to take to flight on the approach of a would be kisser.

As the clock struck 9 two young girls entered the park arm in arm. One was tall and stately, with very black eyes, a cable of plaited black hair hanging down her back. The other was smaller, a blue eyed beauty, with hair of spun gold drifting in the breeze. They had no sooner passed the gate than green feathers began to flutter in their path. Many a young man approached, but was deterred by a repellent glance from the queenly brunette. For an hour the pair walked about the park watching the others. Now and again some young girl would suddenly dart away on seeing a youth approach whom she wished to avoid or to appear to avoid. Here and there would be heard suppressed screams and giggles, while smacks resounded like pistol shots.

But the two girls walked untouched. Many persons noticed them, but no one seemed to know them. It was supposed that they were of high degree, daughters of noblemen who had come to witness the kissing without taking part in it, and it was even whispered that they were from the court. But there were men present from the court, and none of them had ever seen the girls before. The people wondered why these gallants dared not offer to kiss two such beauties.

Near midnight a man with a black beard entered in company with one who appeared to be his son. It was apparent that both were disguised. Passing the two girls, they turned and looked at them, then, walking in a circle, met them again. At this second meeting the younger man darted toward the blue eyed girl. Seeing him coming, she left her companion and ran away. Those watching these unknown people then saw the older man approach the girl who was left. They expected that she would wither him with a glance. What was their surprise to see her after a faint resistance submit to be kissed. Then when he offered his arm she took it, and they walked on together.

"You are very bold," said the lady.

"Such beauty as yours would inspire boldness in a coward."

"You had no right to kiss me. You do not wear the green feather."

"True. I never thought of that. But such beauty as yours makes one forget."

"You may have a ladylove."

"Such beauty as yours would win me from her in spite of my best resolution."

"You do not deny that she exists."

"I do not. Whatever or whoever I am, I am no liar."

"But would you break a heart for a stranger?"

"It is she who is the stranger. I have never seen her."

"Never have seen her! What manner of man are you who wooes without seeing her you woo?"

"I see her I woo. I have not seen her I have intended to make my bride."

"There comes my friend with your boy. I must rejoin her. This is but the adventure of an evening. Farewell."

"We will not part without the pledge of another meeting. Tell me when and where I may communicate with you tomorrow."

"You may call upon me tomorrow evening." She gave him the location of a villa where she said she lived. "But you will not. You will think of this affair overnight and resolve to be true to that which I surmise is to your interest."

"Wait and see."

The next evening the stranger drove up to the villa in question. He was ushered in by lackeys with every evidence of profound respect. He seemed surprised. In a sumptuous salon he was received by the lady who had so suddenly inspired him. She was smiling at him with an air of triumph.

"I am surprised to see your majesty," she began, but he interrupted her.

"Majesty!"

"Yes. You were known to me from the first."

"Who are you?"

"First let me know your royal decision. For me will you break with the Princess Margaret?"

"The Princess Margaret! What do you know of the Princess Margaret?"

"Will you cast her off for one you have seen but once?"

"I will wed no one at present. I ask to be permitted to pay my addresses to you with a view to raising you to a throne."

"So you are not so sure of this newborn love after all?"

"I am. I wish time to prepare my people for the change."

The lady turned her head aside. The king took one of her hands in his and poured forth a torrent of words. Suddenly she stopped him.

"I am the Princess Margaret."

"You the Princess Margaret!"

THE BOY INVENTOR.

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Once upon a time there was a boy—not a story boy, a real boy—who was of an inventive turn of mind. We shall call him Dick. That was not his name, but it doesn't matter, so far as the story is concerned. Dick was a farmer's boy, and there wasn't at that time anything in farming to stimulate invention. Now there are steam plows and mowing machines of infinite variety to start a boy on the road of contrivance. But then the plowing and the reaping were done in the old fashioned way.

Dick was born an inventor and if he had lived on a desert island would doubtless have invented things. The only implement he had to work with was a jackknife, but this he put to very good use. There are lots of people in the world who have every advantage and accomplish nothing. There are a few who have none and accomplish a great deal. Dick was one of the latter kind. With his jackknife he whittled out a model of a machine he had contrived, and when he had put it together, his face lighting up with the enthusiasm of genius, he took it to his father.

It has been often said of a boy in derision that he knows more than his father. This could be truly said of Dick. The poor fellow was crushed at seeing his parent give his model a kick that reduced it to fragments, saying:

"I'll have no boy about me who will spend his time at such foolish things."

In order to keep his son from "foolish things" and enable him to earn an honest living he apprenticed his son to Tom Hogan, a blacksmith. Dick took with him the remains of the model his father had broken up and after his day's work was done spent his time putting it together, replacing those parts that were beyond repair with new ones. When he had it finished he began to think what he should do with it. He had seen it kicked to pieces once and didn't fancy running the risk of having it destroyed again. However, Hogan was a kind master, and Dick finally concluded to let him have a look at it. He not only let him see it, but showed him how it worked.

The little fellow demonstrated his machine, absorbed in its clumsy motions, for it was but an imperfect affair, occasionally looking up timidly, remembering the last kicking it got and fearing another, now calling attention to some defect that needed improvement, now to one that, after much thought and experiment, had been overcome, at all times showing that zeal necessary to the breaking down of obstacles which stand in the way of the accomplishment of great results.

The blacksmith looked down on his apprentice and his contrivance, a singular expression on his face as he compared what he could do with his sledge with the results to be achieved by the boy's ingenious invention, now and again turning from the machine to Dick, his eye resting on the young face with a curious wonder.

The next chapter in this simple story is the boy superintending the construction of a machine on the lines of his model, the cost of which was provided by his master, the blacksmith, who had now become his friend and patron. When it was finished it was found to work, practically doing automatically what from the time the earliest garments were made by man had been done by hand. The first power loom had been invented and constructed.

Wealth was now within the grasp of the two, who became partners. The blacksmith furnished the means for building looms, for which Dick gave him a portion of the profits. But this was a mere trifle in comparison with the benefits conferred upon mankind. Thousands who before had been unclad or were covered only with the coarsest or scantiest clothing were now able to procure ample and comfortable apparel.

It was a year after Dick's apprenticeship that his master wrote his apprentice's father that he would bring to see him a wealthy gentleman who was the inventor of the celebrated power loom. On the day appointed Tom Hogan and Dick appeared before the old gentleman, who asked where was the great inventor.

"There he is," said the blacksmith, "your own son. The model he showed you you kicked to pieces. He reconstructed it and showed it to me. Instead of bringing him up as I contracted, to earn a miserable living with his hands, I have put him in a way to make a fortune by his brain. You destroyed his model, but you could not blot out the work of his genius."

We have pictured Dick looking up at the blacksmith as he showed his reconstructed machine, the blacksmith looking down on the young inventor. There was a third picture, the father looking on his son, whose model of a machine that had revolutionized the weaving of the world he had kicked to pieces. Mortification gave place to wonder, and wonder was chased away by pride in his boy, who had produced this marvelous result. Whether Dick first embraced his father or the father embraced Dick does not matter. At any rate, they came together, the son shutting off the father's apologies.

Dick did more than this. He made the old man not only comfortable, but administered to his every wish. The inventor and his partner continued to grow rich, and if they could have had a royalty on every power loom that has been constructed to this day they would be the wealthiest men in the world.

DO IT NOW

Charleroi People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give peace to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills at the present time as when I publicly recommended in 1907. At that time I told of the great benefit a member of my family had received form the use of this remedy, procured at Piper Bros'. Drug Store. On several occasions since then the person referred to has taken this remedy with the best of results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

When Rip Van Winkle Awoke.

You have all heard the story of poor Rip Van Winkle's sleep. When he went up on the mountain and drank too long and deep; and some of you perhaps have seen the play and will recall, Rip's sorrow when old Snyder failed to answer to his call. Then climbing down the mountain side all weary and footsore, he finds at last the home he'd left so many years before. No wife and family greet him—only strangers does he find. And when he tells his story folks just think he's lost his mind. But it's his home—he'll swear to that—for still upon the floor, is that same coat of Chi Namel put on twenty years before. It's no joke—Chi-Namel will out-wear any house varnish ever put upon the market—because there's not an ounce of adulteration in it. It's the pure stuff and cheapest by the year. Sold by T. P. Grant. 14

NEGOTIATIONS OFF; MINE STRIKE ON IN EARNEST

Funds in District Treasury Depleted and Foraging May be Necessary.

LOCAL MINERS AFFECTED

Will be Very Bad Thing for Valley in Immediate Vicinity of Charleroi.

After weeks of fruitless negotiations, the wage conference between the coal operators and miners of this district has come to an end by each side peremtorily rejecting the final proposals of the other. Negotiations are now off, and the strike, which has hitherto been called a suspension pending a settlement, is on in earnest. Fifty thousand miners are idle in the Pittsburg district, and indicatins at the present time are that a long drawn out strike is in sight.

The dispute hinged on the use of permissible explosives in this district by the Pittsburg Coal company, the miners demanding pay on a run of mine basis, on the claims that the use of the new explosives broke up the coal and decreased their earnings when the coal was screened. The operators were willing to grant the advance, but refused absoluely to pay on a run of mine basis.

This condition in the mining situation finds the miners illy prepared for a stike. Two weeks' idleness have already made great inroads on their individual reserve funds and there are no funds in the disrtict treasury with which to pay benefits. One of the miners officials stated that the miner's families will have to forage for a living during the strike, and that a tent colony would be established to take care of those whose families would be evicted from the mine houses.

Charleroi and the immediate vicinity will be badly affected. The mines of the Pttsburg Coal company that are tributary to the town are: Champion, at Elco; Eclipse, above Elco; Vigilant, California; Appollo, Fayette City; Redstone, above Fayette City; Washington, opposite Stockdale; Alice, opposite Roscoe; Chamouni, opposite California; Crescent, above California; Snow Hill, opposite Roscoe; Albany and Knob, near West Brownsville, and the Tremont and Pricedale mines near Belle Vernon, as well as the mines of the United Coal company at Naomi, which are similarly affected. These mines employ an aggregate of from 3,500 to 5,000 men, it is stated.

In addition to the mines of the Pittsburg Coal company are a number of others in the vicinity which will be similary affected by the strike. It is not known what the Vesta miners at California and Allenport will do, as this company has different conditons, and according to the Cincinnati agreement has the power to arrange their own terms. There is no powder dispute there, as the coal is paid for on a run of mine basis. Two or three attempts have been made to start the mines, but owing to local disputes work has not been resumed. Word from the Vesta Coal company's office at California this morning was to the effect that the mines are still idle, and it is not known whether or not the men there will join in the general strike of the district.

The Charleroi Coal works officials are also equally at sea. The mines have been closed for some time for repairs about the tipple, which are not yet completed, and it is not known what action the miners will take in regard to the strike. The Henderson mines across the river are idle and it is not known what the men there will do. Altogether the situation looks dark, but there is still hope expressed that a settlement will be reached before the strike is of much longer duration.

Council Accepts Auditors Report

Council at a meeting last night accepted the audtors' report for the audit just completed, and the clerk was instructed to draw a warrant on the treasury for $47.00 due them for the work. The audtiors were H. F. Parsons, J. G. Albright and Harry C. Hormell. The amount paid for the audit was $28.00 less than last year. Those present at the meeting were President J. K. Hein and Councilmen Oscar Linn, W. R. Gaut and Charles Schmeiler.

MANY CITIZENS FILE PROTEST

Many citizens are filing a protest over the ordinance recently enacted by council granting the privilege of making additions of the same materials to wooden buildings within the fire limits of the borough. The ordinance repeals the former regulations requiring all buildings or additions, big or little, to be of fire proof materials. Many property holders in the past have been obliged to make additions to frame buildings of brick at an increased expense and inconvenince, and these in particular are alleging discrimination. Other objections filed are that the ordinance will increase the insurance rates as soon as the underwriters learn of its passage. Some of the penalties imposed by the board have just been removed after much effort, and some are of the opinion that the ordinance just passed will result in additional penalties to the rates of business insurance.

Speaking of the ordinance one of the councilmen said yesterday that was passed for the purpose of removing some of the harsher restrictions of the first fire limit ordinance. That prevented a property owner from making slight additions to frame buildings, such as raising a one story addition, adding a porch, or connecting two wooden buildings that stood side by side. The object of the ordinance, the councilman said, was only for slight alterations, which must have the sanction of four councilmen, who should always consider that the fire risk must not be enhanced. It is not the intent of the ordinance, he said, to permit large additions to wooden buildings within the fire limits.

There is a strong feeling about town, however, that the ordinance leaves a loop-hole for evasions that will be hard to control, and which will result in more evasions of the fire limit regulations in the future than have been made in the past.

UPHOLDS THE LAW

Office of County Controller Constitutional Says Judge Taylor.

Late yesterday afternoon Judge J. F. Taylor in the county court handed down an opinion and a decree declaring the recent act of Assembly creating the office of county controller in Washington county constitutional.

C. R. Tilton filed a petition that the law was unconstitutional and refused to act with the other auditors in preparing an audit of the county up to October 1, 1909, when Controller Moffitt took office. The court, in its opinion, states that Tilton was not the proper person to raise the question of the law's constitutionality.

ACTIVITIES BEGUN ON STREET CAR LINE TO RIVER

According to the Monessen Independent, direct trolley communication between Monessen and other valley towns within two years is an assured fact. Activities have been started by the Pittsburg McKeesport and Westmoreland street railway company on the proposed line and expect to reach Donora on the main route before winter sets in.

The building of a bridge between Monessen and Donora midway between the two towns will complete the circuit which according to the company's intentions is to be perfected within the limit of two years.

The company intends to reach the Monongahela valley by way of Rostraver township, thence through Webster to Donora over the new Donora bridge.

The line will then extend up the river to a point midway between Donora and Monessen and will then cross to the east side by means of the new bridge which the company will erect.

A party of the company officials met the supervisors of Rostraver township Thursday for the purpose of closing the matter of securing the necessary franchise. In the party were T. L. Wolf, secretary of the company; C. P. Goehring, chief engineer, and J. S. Secrist, one of the directors. Dr. D. R. Shepler of West Newton, was also with the party.

The result of the conference is not known but the supervisors are said to be favorable to the idea of granting a franchise.

MONESSEN-CHARLEROI HOSPITAL IS DOING SURPRISINGLY WELL

The success that is attending the Monessen-Charleroi hospital in its early efforts of self maintenance and its work of relief for the victims of disease and accident is evidence that the promoters of the institution were endowed with excellent foresight in their claims for the need of such an establishment and the ability of the community to give it support. While a large number of cases continue to go to the city hospitals, this is no proof that the local institution is not doing a work which this section appreciates.

The choice of a hospital is a personal one. And it should be remembered that a hospital, like any other establishment which must build on a business foundation, has its reputation to make and its clientele to gather as it grows older. This the most doubtful must acknowledge the Monessen-Charleroi hospital is doing. It is no burden on the people. Most of the contributions to its support have been given with something of value in the way of social pleasure received. So we must all with one accord agree that the location of a hospital in this field was not in vain. It has with meager capital surmounted difficulties which only a small percentage of business houses succeed in doing when similarly placed.

Always deserving of a helping hand wherever possible, it is doubly worthy of support in the light of recent good work and present good showing. Help it along in every way possible.—Monessen Friday Evening Call.

SITTING ON DUCK EGGS IN MATTER OF PHANTOM VOTES

Ex-Congressman Acheson has been sitting on an hallucination for the past two years and a few days ago the shell broke. The result was quite similar to a hen sitting on a duck egg. Everybody else but the hen knows that the joke is on her.

He has at last brought forth his "evidence" to account for the number of illegal votes cast to defeat him. By deducting the number of votes cast for Taft in the fall of 1908 from the number of Republicans who voted for Tener at the Spring primary he ascertains to his own satisfaction the number of illegal votes cast. The American does not know whether to be sorry for the duck or its unnatural mother.

By this unique theory of deduction Mr. Acheson learns that there were just 346 illegal votes cast in Charleroi. He also has the figures for each precinct of the county, which someone has kindly passed over to Kennedy, Acheson's protege in the present campaign against Tener.

The absurdity of this line of figuring is so apparent that it is hardly worthy of consideration. In Donora in 1904, 367 votes were cast for Roosevelt electors, but at the Republican primary in 1906, when a candidate for burgess was nominated, 382 votes were cast, more than twice the number cast for president. Both candidates in the fight for burgess had their friends and watchers to see that no illegal votes were polled for the other man. In the spring of 1908, 723 Republican votes were cast for the candidates for Congress, and in the fall of the same year Taft electors received 462. Local contests always bring out a larger vote than Presidential elections and are closer watched to prevent fraud. That Mr. Tener's vote in his home town should exceed the Presidential vote is the most natural thing in the world—Donora American.

BOROUGH MAY ENTER SUIT AGAINST WATER COMPANY

Matter Now Lies in Hands of Borough Solicitor McCloskey.

COMPLAINTS NUMEROUS

Re-Rating of Old Rules Alleged —Contract Rate by Room Instead of by House.

From annoyances caused taxpayers of Charleroi in a sytem of re-rating, which it is alleged the Charleroi Water company is enforcing without proper authority, the borough council instructed Borough Solicitor D. M. McCloskey last night, if in his judgment he thought proper, enter legal proceedings against the Water company. The violation of the recently signed contract is not alleged, but the trouble is being caused by the extreme enforcement of old rules in various places of the borough.

Last night at the meeting of council, Solicitor McCloskey was present. Three complaints were heard, one from William F. Schempp, who stated that the water company was trying to enforce him to install three meters in a house on McKean avenue, simply for the reason that three families reside in the house. Another was from William Lambert, who has had trouble having his water turned on. Councilman Charles Schmisler reported a grievance from near Ninth street, on the same lines.

Since the Water company began a few weeks ago to make an effort toward re-rating in the borough, there have been numerous compsints made, first to the Water company officials, and then, after there was no satisfaction to be had there, to members of the borough council, and Solicitor McCloskey. The outcome of these complaints was the acion last night.

One of the main contentions is that the water company is striving to enforce apartment house owners to install a meter for every family occupying an apartment. Another contention is that the company is attempting in houses where water is used by contract rate to charge for every room according to old rules.

The law on the points involved has not been defined, but in the opinion of Solicitor McCloskey, the borough could prepare a strong suit.

Beautiful Scriptural Sentiment in Cantata

A beautiful scriptural sentiment is the foundation of the cantata "Bethany" to be given at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening, under the direction of Prof. I. T. Daniel. Those who will participate are Mrs. I. T. Daniel, soprano; Miss Helen Woodhall, contralto; Morris J. Stephens tenor, and Prof. Daniel, bass.

BREWERY APPEAL SCHEDULED FOR A HEARING MONDAY

The appeal of the Star Brewing company of Washington to the Superior Court from the decision of the lower court in refusing to grant the company license for another year, is scheduled to be called next Monday in the Superior Court, which is sitting in Pittsburg. The case may not be reached Monday, but will come up some day next week.

Under the court's decision the Star company will be compelled to close down its plant on May 1, the end of the license year, unless there should be some action by the appellate court that would permit it to operate, which is not likely.

The outcome of the hearing in the appellate court will be awaited with interest, not only in this county but over the entire State. The beer agent question is the main one at issue in the appeal. It is not expected that an opinon will be handed down for several weeks at least.

T. F. Birch represents the applicant and will be prepared to argue that side of the question. Attorneys R. W. Knox, H. D. Hamilton, Rufus S. Marriner and J. R. McCreight represent the remonstrants.

WOOLWORTH'S OPENING DRAWS IMMENSE CROWD TO POPULAR NEW STORE

The popularity of F. W. Woolworth's 5 and 10 cent store in Charleroi was fully attested to by the crowds which thronged the store yeterday afternoon and last night when the opening of the new store in the Monier building, 530-532 Fallowfield avenue, occurred.

The opening hours were from 2 to 5 in the afternoon, and in the evening from 7 to 9. During these hours Jenkins orchestra furnished music. Close tab was kept on the number of visitors during the day at the store, and when the doors had been closed for the night, it was found that there had as near as it was possible to ascertain 2,800 people entered the doors.

The store was decorated for the occasion. There are 15 counters, and the most perfect arrangement has been made in the capacious room. Five managers of other stores were here yesterday to assist Manager L. J. Peck, Charles Churchill of Homestead; Frank Woolworth of Monessen; C. D. Kurtz, Monongahela; A. D. Dunham of Pittsburg and F. W. Haderman of Pittsburg. R. J. Reilley of the East Liberty store, formerly of Charlreoi, was also here.

B. FRANK SMITH DRAWN ON JURY TO TRY HIMSELF

Strange and startling was the prank played by the hand of fate at the court house in Uniontown Thursday while the names of the June jurors were being drawn. B. Frank Smith is in jail for slaying his father, D. Porter Smith, and his brother-in-law, Evans Moser. He will be tried at the first week of June in Criminal court. Only a few names had been drawn for service that week when Jury Commissioner W. T. Kennedy, who was taking the names from the wheel, opened a slip and read aloud: "B. Frank Smith, farmer, George township No. 4." The name of a man to be tried for his life had been legally drawn for jury service during the week of his own trial. Such an incident never before occurred in the history of Fayette county, and it is doubtful if a similar circumstance is recorded anywhere in the United States. The name was thrown out.

FOR CONGRESS

JOHN K. TENER

OF CHARLEROI

Subject to the Decision of the Republican Voters of the Twenty-Fourth District at the Primaries June 4

An Important Decision.

While the proceeding to oust County Controller John H. Moffitt from office on the grounds of unconstitutionality may be carried to a higher court, the opinion of the lower court that the act is valid and constitutional, ought to settle the controversy. There are ample precedents in such cases, and it is safe to assume that the opinion handed down by Judge J. F. Taylor is the result of careful investigation and an interpretation of the law intrenched by well known precedents.

The office of controller, administered as it is at the present time, will result in a great savings to the county, as well as inaugurate a new era of looking after public affairs more in detail than has been done in the past. While there have been marked retrenchments in the conduct of county affairs since the present board of commissioners took office, some of the administrations of the past were marked by eras of extravagance and reckless expenditures. The fiscal affairs of the county were made to serve personal political ends, at the expense of the taxpayers. Judge Taylor's opinion will no doubt stand, and the controller, which is always a safeguard to the county's fiscal affairs, will continue to serve a useful purpose.

The Miners' Strike.

It is to be sincerely hoped that the miners' strike in this district, which is now inaugurated in earnest by the breaking off of all negotiations of the joint wage scale committees will be of short duration. Neither the miners nor the small business interests of this district are able to withstand a long drawn-out struggle, and the contest, if continued, cannot be otherwise than most demoralizing.

To those who look into the situation deeper than the surface, it would appear that a new economic principle in coal mining is involved, and that before the matter is finally adjusted there will be radical changes in methods. The use of the new explosives, over which there is so much dispute, involves new methods of handling, which those interested at this particular time do not seem to be able to grasp. The problem will no doubt be solved in due time, and when it is, it will probably be found that several departments will be necessary in the mining of coal where one is now in use. The chaotic period, however, is what bears heavily upon the miners and their families at the present time.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

The joke writer on Judge must have a tougher job than President Taft keeping his social engagements.

Men should remember that it is impossible to buy socks in Charleroi now after six o'clock.

"Reckless and revolting demagogy" is what the Philadelphia Ledger calls Senator La Follett's recent speech on the railroad bill. We would really rather it wouldn't use all that talk to tell him what his action was.

The marathon has gone out of style for the same reason that housecleaning is not fashionable—too frequent.

One of the strangest things to a man is that of a woman, dirty, dishevelled, and hungry, yet exceptionally happy, from the joys of housecleaning.

It doesn't do a millionaire grafter any good to say he won't do what the officials want him to do. That's what makes the officials mad.

Some persons long for rain, and then when they get a paper damp because the paper boy could not keep it from the downpour, swear vengeance upon all connected with the publication.

Parents Do Not Pay Enough Attention to Work in Schools

The teachers and patrons of the schools who attended the second night of the Charleroi Teachers' institute at School Hall last night, and many new ideas which will help in the school work, through the various talks. Through the various discussions ran the sentiment that the parents did not pay enough attention of the work being done in the schools, and thus in a manner interferred rather than hepled in the educational work.

To the Voters of Washington and Greene Counties:

I am a candidate in the Republican primary Saturday, June 4, for the nomination of Senator in the General Assembly to represent the people of Washington and Greene counties. I am under no pledge or promise to any individual, clique or faction in the district or outside. I stand upon my own individual record and I am making my appeal for votes direct to the people---the sovereign power of every community. I stand pledged to use my best efforts in behalf of the people and I assure one and all that I shall use all honorable means to advance the welfare and interest of my constituency.

I have made no entangling alliances and if nominated and elected I shall be left free to do the will ofthe people in all matters pertaining to their peace, welfare and happiness. I refer the voters of Washington and Greene counties to past record in public life covering a period of thirty years. It is upon this record that I make an appeal for support in the coming primaries. I solicit the vote and influence of every Republican in the district. Thanking you kindly in advance for the interest you will take in my behalf, I am,

Very Respectfully Yours,

John W. Hallam

HIS HEART'S DESIRE

An Informal Call That Had a Happy Ending.

By GARFIELD MAC NEAL.

[Copyrighted, 1909, by Associated Literary Press.]

The chimes were still ringing as Tom Hastings sat down in the half darkness of the little church. He had strolled in hoping for temporary release from his bitter thoughts, but the quiet of the place only seemed to rouse his brain to greater activity. Yet he could not think of his story, the story already due at the publisher's. Instead he saw only a girl's face, now sweet and gracious as it had been before the quarrel, now cold and repellent as the past two weeks had shown it.

A strain of music broke the silence. The choir was filing in. Hastings glanced carelessly at the white robed procession. The face of the first boy caught his attention for a moment, serious, spiritual, framed in an aureole of golden hair, an ideal face for a choir boy.

But again, his thoughts ran back in the old channels to the quarrel and its consequences. Her work had seemed to go on as usual. She was a successful miniature painter—at least fine carriages often stopped at the doorway of the big studio building, and her tools rang with feminine voices. That was the maddening part of it. She lived just across the hall, so he must see her many times a day. He had made up his mind to move. But, then, he had such a beastly lot of traps, or perhaps it was some lingering hope that kept him there.

Some familiar chords on the organ startled him. Was it the offertory already? Yes, and the ideal choir boy was singing alone. His handsome face was flushed, and in his earnestness he waved his sheet of music gently to and fro.

"Oh, rest in the Lord," he sang.

Hastings leaned forward. The words were apparently for him. The absolute certainty of the boy's tones carried conviction.

"And he shall give thee thy heart's desire."

The tender voice went straight to the man's heart and comforted him. Yes, he, too, would wait patiently, and perhaps some day he, too, would have his heart's desire. Till then he would wait and work.

The next two weeks went by very differently. Under the press of a new enthusiasm the book seemed to write itself. The last sheet had gone in to the publisher, and he had always worn a smile when he met the girl on the stairs. Her bow was still as freezing, but he only smiled again and hummed the few bars from "Elijah," "And he shall give thee thy heart's desire."

Again Hastings sat in the little church. Perhaps his choir boy would sing for him. But the figure of the small leader drooped. In the glare of the choir lights his face showed white and haggard, while his eyes were swollen from weeping. A wave of pity went over the watching man. It might now be his turn to comfort. The sweet soprano voice was low and broken.

Hastings determined to find the meaning of the change, so he lingered after the service, and a kind faced curate told him the sad little story.

"You mean Jack Haines? He has just lost his mother—consumption—and the poor little fellow is left all alone. He is being cared for by neighbors, but we must find him a place in some charity school."

That delicate child in a charity school! Hastings could not bear the thought of it. The face of the child and his own loneliness helped him to come to a sudden resolution. His voice was very eager as he said, "Let me have him."

And so Jack came to live in the big studio building. Slowly the roses came back to his cheeks. He did not forget the pretty mother who had gone to sleep so quietly, but he haunted this new big brother like a shadow and crept into his arms to cry away the grief that time was trying to heal.

But it worried Hastings that the lad should be so solemn. When he came in and found the boy poring over some big book he would half laughingly scold him for turning into such a little bookworm. "You need some one to play with, Jack," he would say. "It is bad for you to be always cooped up with an old fellow like me." Tom was only thirty, but somehow he had felt very old and settled since that night.

But Jack always declared that he didn't want to be with any one else, and he was such a shy child that Hastings forbore to press the point.

He was therefore much surprised one afternoon on coming in to find the rooms empty. Where could Jack be? As the minutes went by, bringing no boy, he became really anxious. The janitor had not seen him. He was returning from fruitless inquiries when he stopped short at a burst of childish laughter. Could it be Jack? He never laughed like that. But, yes; it was his voice, and it came from the girl's rooms.

Hastings hesitated. And now the girl laughed. It was the same saucy little laugh he had loved so much in the days gone by. It decided him. She had stolen his property and should answer for the theft. He knocked boldly on the door.

Silence. He knocked again. Evidently they did not hear him. So he turned the knob and entered the forbidden chamber.

Surprising sight! On the floor in true Turkish style sat the stately Miss Trevor. On her lap were a big sheet of cardboard and sundry brushes and paints. Her hair was disheveled, and several daubs of color ornamented her

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

THE KISSING FETE.

By ROBERT C. WARNER.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

The fete was a great sucess. Long before the hour announced for the beginning of the festivities crowds of people were flocking to the entrances of the park, and during the evening many thousands came and went. Of these there were the young and the older, married, the former as participants, the latter as spectators.

And what was the occasion of the fete? An edict had gone forth that between the hours of 8 and 12 any young man might kiss any girl in the park provided he wore in his cap a green feather. This provision was introduced to enable any girl opposed to strange embraces to take to flight on the approach of a would be kisser.

As the clock struck 9 two young girls entered the park arm in arm. One was tall and stately, with very black eyes, a cable of plaited black hair hanging down her back. The other was smaller, a blue eyed beauty, with hair of spun gold drifting in the breeze. They had no sooner passed the gate than green feathers began to flutter in their path. Many a young man approached, but was deterred by a repellent glance from the queenly brunette. For an hour the pair walked about the park watching the others. Now and again some young girl would suddenly dart away on seeing a youth approach whom she wished to avoid or to appear to avoid. Here and there would be heard suppressed screams and giggles, while smacks resounded like pistol shots.

But the two girls walked untouched. Many persons noticed them, but no one seemed to know them. It was supposed that they were of high degree, daughters of noblemen who had come to witness the kissing without taking part in it, and it was even whispered that they were from the court. But there were men present from the court, and none of them had ever seen the girls before. The people wondered why these gallants dared not offer to kiss two such beauties.

Near midnight a man with a black beard entered in company with one who appeared to be his son. It was apparent that both were disguised. Passing the two girls, they turned and looked at them, then, walking in a circle, met them again. At this second meeting the younger man darted toward the blue eyed girl. Seeing him coming, she left her companion and ran away. Those watching these unknown people then saw the older man approach the girl who was left. They expected that she would wither him with a glance. What was their surprise to see her after a faint resistance submit to be kissed. Then when he offered his arm she took it, and they walked on together.

"You are very bold," said the lady.

"Such beauty as yours would inspire boldness in a coward."

"You had no right to kiss me. You do not wear the green feather."

"True. I never thought of that. But such beauty as yours makes one forget."

"You may have a ladylove."

"Such beauty as yours would win me from her in spite of my best resolution."

"You do not deny that she exists."

"I do not. Whatever or whoever I am, I am no liar."

"But would you break a heart for a stranger?"

"It is she who is the stranger. I have never seen her."

"Never have seen her! What manner of man are you who wooes without seeing her you woo?"

"I see her I woo. I have not seen her I have intended to make my bride."

"There comes my friend with your boy. I must rejoin her. This is but the adventure of an evening. Farewell."

"We will not part without the pledge of another meeting. Tell me when and where I may communicate with you tomorrow."

"You may call upon me tomorrow evening." She gave him the location of a villa where she said she lived. "But you will not. You will think of this affair overnight and resolve to be true to that which I surmise is to your interest."

"Wait and see."

The next evening the stranger drove up to the villa in question. He was ushered in by lackeys with every evidence of profound respect. He seemed surprised. In a sumptuous salon he was received by the lady who had so suddenly inspired him. She was smiling at him with an air of triumph.

"I am surprised to see your majesty," she began, but he interrupted her.

"Majesty!"

"Yes. You were known to me from the first."

"Who are you?"

"First let me know your royal decision. For me will you break with the Princess Margaret?"

"The Princess Margaret! What do you know of the Princess Margaret?"

"Will you cast her off for one you have seen but once?"

"I will wed no one at present. I ask to be permitted to pay my addresses to you with a view to raising you to a throne."

"So you are not so sure of this newborn love after all?"

"I am. I wish time to prepare my people for the change."

The lady turned her head aside. The king took one of her hands in his and poured forth a torrent of words. Suddenly she stopped him.

"I am the Princess Margaret."

"You the Princess Margaret!"

THE BOY INVENTOR.

By LOUISE B. CUMMINGS.

[Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.]

Once upon a time there was a boy—not a story boy, a real boy—who was of an inventive turn of mind. We shall call him Dick. That was not his name, but it doesn't matter, so far as the story is concerned. Dick was a farmer's boy, and there wasn't at that time anything in farming to stimulate invention. Now there are steam plows and mowing machines of infinite variety to start a boy on the road of contrivance. But then the plowing and the reaping were done in the old fashioned way.

Dick was born an inventor and if he had lived on a desert island would doubtless have invented things. The only implement he had to work with was a jackknife, but this he put to very good use. There are lots of people in the world who have every advantage and accomplish nothing. There are a few who have none and accomplish a great deal. Dick was one of the latter kind. With his jackknife he whittled out a model of a machine he had contrived, and when he had put it together, his face lighting up with the enthusiasm of genius, he took it to his father.

It has been often said of a boy in derision that he knows more than his father. This could be truly said of Dick. The poor fellow was crushed at seeing his parent give his model a kick that reduced it to fragments, saying:

"I'll have no boy about me who will spend his time at such foolish things."

In order to keep his son from "foolish things" and enable him to earn an honest living he apprenticed his son to Tom Hogan, a blacksmith. Dick took with him the remains of the model his father had broken up and after his day's work was done spent his time putting it together, replacing those parts that were beyond repair with new ones. When he had it finished he began to think what he should do with it. He had seen it kicked to pieces once and didn't fancy running the risk of having it destroyed again. However, Hogan was a kind master, and Dick finally concluded to let him have a look at it. He not only let him see it, but showed him how it worked.

The little fellow demonstrated his machine, absorbed in its clumsy motions, for it was but an imperfect affair, occasionally looking up timidly, remembering the last kicking it got and fearing another, now calling attention to some defect that needed improvement, now to one that, after much thought and experiment, had been overcome, at all times showing that zeal necessary to the breaking down of obstacles which stand in the way of the accomplishment of great results.

The blacksmith looked down on his apprentice and his contrivance, a singular expression on his face as he compared what he could do with his sledge with the results to be achieved by the boy's ingenious invention, now and again turning from the machine to Dick, his eye resting on the young face with a curious wonder.

The next chapter in this simple story is the boy superintending the construction of a machine on the lines of his model, the cost of which was provided by his master, the blacksmith, who had now become his friend and patron. When it was finished it was found to work, practically doing automatically what from the time the earliest garments were made by man had been done by hand. The first power loom had been invented and constructed.

Wealth was now within the grasp of the two, who became partners. The blacksmith furnished the means for building looms, for which Dick gave him a portion of the profits. But this was a mere trifle in comparison with the benefits conferred upon mankind. Thousands who before had been unclad or were covered only with the coarsest or scantiest clothing were now able to procure ample and comfortable apparel.

It was a year after Dick's apprenticeship that his master wrote his apprentice's father that he would bring to see him a wealthy gentleman who was the inventor of the celebrated power loom. On the day appointed Tom Hogan and Dick appeared before the old gentleman, who asked where was the great inventor.

"There he is," said the blacksmith, "your own son. The model he showed you you kicked to pieces. He reconstructed it and showed it to me. Instead of bringing him up as I contracted, to earn a miserable living with his hands, I have put him in a way to make a fortune by his brain. You destroyed his model, but you could not blot out the work of his genius."

We have pictured Dick looking up at the blacksmith as he showed his reconstructed machine, the blacksmith looking down on the young inventor. There was a third picture, the father looking on his son, whose model of a machine that had revolutionized the weaving of the world he had kicked to pieces. Mortification gave place to wonder, and wonder was chased away by pride in his boy, who had produced this marvelous result. Whether Dick first embraced his father or the father embraced Dick does not matter. At any rate, they came together, the son shutting off the father's apologies.

Dick did more than this. He made the old man not only comfortable, but administered to his every wish. The inventor and his partner continued to grow rich, and if they could have had a royalty on every power loom that has been constructed to this day they would be the wealthiest men in the world.

DO IT NOW

Charleroi People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give peace to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills at the present time as when I publicly recommended in 1907. At that time I told of the great benefit a member of my family had received form the use of this remedy, procured at Piper Bros'. Drug Store. On several occasions since then the person referred to has taken this remedy with the best of results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

When Rip Van Winkle Awoke.

You have all heard the story of poor Rip Van Winkle's sleep. When he went up on the mountain and drank too long and deep; and some of you perhaps have seen the play and will recall, Rip's sorrow when old Snyder failed to answer to his call. Then climbing down the mountain side all weary and footsore, he finds at last the home he'd left so many years before. No wife and family greet him—only strangers does he find. And when he tells his story folks just think he's lost his mind. But it's his home—he'll swear to that—for still upon the floor, is that same coat of Chi-Namel put on twenty years before. It's no joke—Chi-Namel will out-wear any house varnish ever put upon the market—because there's not an ounce of adulteration in it. It's the pure stuff and cheapest by the year. Sold by T. P. Grant. 14

DO IT NOW

Charleroi People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death rate from kidney disease is due in most cases to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms give peace to chronic disorders and the sufferer goes gradually into the grasp of diabetes, dropsy, Bright's disease, gravel or some other serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they cure where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

Mrs. Brice Ray, 121 Prospect avenue, Charleroi, Pa., says: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills at the present time as when I publicly recommended in 1907. At that time I told of the great benefit a member of my family had received form the use of this remedy, procured at Piper Bros'. Drug Store. On several occasions since then the person referred to has taken this remedy with the best of results."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

When Rip Van Winkle Awoke.

You have all heard the story of poor Rip Van Winkle's sleep. When he went up on the mountain and drank too long and deep; and some of you perhaps have seen the play and will recall, Rip's sorrow when old Snyder failed to answer to his call. Then climbing down the mountain side all weary and footsore, he finds at last the home he'd left so many years before. No wife and family greet him—only strangers does he find. And when he tells his story folks just think he's lost his mind. But it's his home—he'll swear to that—for still upon the floor, is that same coat of Chi-Namel put on twenty years before. It's no joke—Chi-Namel will out-wear any house varnish ever put upon the market—because there's not an ounce of adulteration in it. It's the pure stuff and cheapest by the year. Sold by T. P. Grant. 14
